FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Recorded Books Provides Online Language Learning and Other Technology Based Services to Amigo Library Services Member Libraries

Prince Frederick, MD—June 10, 2010—Recorded Books, LLC, the world’s largest independent producer of audiobooks and a Hights Cross Communications company, today said that it will make available its new online language learning system, Byki Online: Library Edition, to Amigo Library Services member libraries. In addition, Amigo Library Services members will have access to Recorded Books One-Click and ePrep Test Preparation online services. Amigo Library Services, serving over 600 school and public libraries and based in Dallas, TX, is one of one of the largest not-for-profit, membership-based library services organizations in the United States

“Recorded Books is delighted to be working with Amigo Library Services to provide advanced online technology based products to its member libraries,” said Scott Williams, president of Recorded Books. “Byki Online, One-Click, and ePrep online downloadable services provide libraries with powerful and affordable online offerings. Library patrons of all ages, but particularly younger patrons, are demanding online and downloadable services. Recorded Books’ strategy is to partner with successful technology providers to make emerging new services easily available.”

Recorded Books said that with over 80 languages available, library patrons are able to access the Byki Online system remotely and users have an unprecedented number of learning options. Byki’s desktop software features listening, reading, speaking, and writing exercises as well as speech analysis to improve pronunciation skills.

Recorded Books One-Click Audio provides teachers and struggling readers with access to a wide collection of downloadable eAudiobooks. One-Click Audio is available through yearly subscription plans. Its NetLibrary Media Center features an easy-to-use interface with streamlined navigation. Fast downloads, automatic software updates and support for a wide range of portable devices provide an unique user experience.

ePrep test preparation software allows students to prepare for the SAT, ACT, PSAT, PLAN and SSAT from school, home or public library.
